The University of Texas at Dallas

History
The University of Texas at Dallas was founded in 1969 when civic and industrial leaders Cecil Green, Erik Jonsson and Eugene McDermott, the founders of Texas Instruments, gave the Southwest Center for Advanced Studies to the State of Texas.

U.T. Dallas grew in a top-down manner: it first offered doctorate and master’s degrees before accepting junior and senior undergraduate students in 1975. In 1990, U.T. Dallas enrolled its first freshman class, offering a new opportunity for Texas high school seniors to study in a rigorous and fulfilling academic environment.

Faculty
The faculty stresses both teaching and research, and it includes members of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Academy of Engineering as well as a fellow of both the IEEE in Electrical Engineering and ACM in Computer Science.

Students
The quality of The University of Texas at Dallas students can be seen in their accomplishments:

- The U. T. Dallas freshman class regularly ranks first or second in terms of average SAT scores among Texas public universities.
- The U.T. Dallas Chess team finished second in the hemisphere in the Pan American Intercollegiate Chess Championships.
- The Odyssey of the Mind, College Bowl, and Debate teams have also received national recognition in academic competitions.

University Structure
The university offers courses in seven schools: Arts and Humanities, with historical and literary studies as well as performing and visual arts; the Erik Jonsson School of Engineering and Computer Science, focusing on telecommunications, microelectronic device design and fabrication, and computer science; Human Development, with cognitive studies, communication disorders, psychology, and infant studies; Management, with outstanding programs in accountancy, marketing science, decision sciences, international business management and executive education; Natural Sciences and Mathematics, featuring science education, molecular biology, physics, space sciences, chemistry, geosciences, and mathematics; Social Sciences, focusing on political economy, public administration and geography; and General Studies, an interdisciplinary program.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT
Dr. Franklyn Jenifer

At U. T. Dallas we are proud of the high quality of our students, faculty, and staff. We offer our very bright and talented students a nationally recognized faculty with strong research backgrounds. Also, we take pride in offering the highest quality of student life programs. With more than eighty student organizations on campus and a host of sororities and fraternities, the quality of student life on campus continues to improve.

This year we are ready to embark upon the expansion of our intercollegiate athletic program to include NCAA Division III men’s and women’s basketball, soccer, and golf. We have the same expectations of excellence for our scholar-athletes that we have of our other students. I am confident that these talented young men and women will be as successful in the classroom as they are on the courts, fields, and golf courses. They will come to value sportsmanship, camaraderie and hard work as much as they do winning.

On behalf of the University, I wish our scholar-athletes and our coaches a rewarding and successful season. We are beginning a journey that will prepare their bodies as well as their minds.

Let me extend a special welcome and thank you to the community and our supporters. I personally look forward to enjoying the season and interacting with many of you as the games begin.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
Mary Walters

The University of Texas at Dallas is entering its inaugural season as a member of the NCAA Division III and the American Southwest Conference. In March of 1998, Mary Walters was appointed as the Athletic Director of UTD after serving the university for 17 years as the Director of Recreational Sports. Walters will be responsible for developing a competitive athletic program that currently includes men’s and women’s soccer, men’s and women’s golf, and men’s and women’s basketball. In order to comply with NCAA Division III requirements, Walters is in the process of adding men’s and women’s cross-country for the fall of 1999 and softball and baseball for the year 2001. UTD is excited about the future of athletics as it opens the basketball season in its new 11.3 million dollar state-of-the art Activities Center.

Walters is a 1979 graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio, where she competed in three sports; volleyball, basketball, and softball. As a senior captain, she was voted MVP and a TAIAW Academic All-American in basketball. Walters also holds a Master’s Degree in Physical Education from SMU. Mary is married to Mark Stoltz and they have two children, Brian, 17, and Sara, 15.
Putting the Student in Student-Athlete

Over the last few years, the NCAA and its member colleges and universities have worked hard to emphasize the student in the term student-athlete. Academic standards and rules have been developed and changed to ensure that student-athletes can excel in the classroom as they do in their sports. The result of these reforms has been that student-athletes are more likely than ever before to succeed in the collegiate environment.

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field. The focus of the program is on commitments viewed as critical to personal growth: academic excellence, personal development, service, and career development. In addition, NCAA schools work hard to offer further academic support programs to help student-athletes prosper. These programs offer access to study facilities and tutors as well as monitor student-athlete progress.

One result of these programs is that NCAA Division I student-athletes have been consistently graduating at a rate higher than the rest of the student body. For the class entering college in 1990, 56 percent of the overall student body at NCAA Division I institutions graduated, while Division I student-athletes graduated at a rate of 58 percent. The rate does not include student-athletes who transfer to and graduate from another institution.

Minimum academic requirements that student-athletes must meet to play sports as freshmen in college are one reason for the higher graduation rates. In 1982, a group of college presidents, sponsored by the American Council on Education, proposed a set of minimum academic standards to determine freshman athletics eligibility. The first set of standards was implemented in 1986. They required that freshmen graduate high school with a minimum grade-point average of 2.00 in 11 core academic courses and a minimum standardized test score of 700 on the SAT or 15 on the ACT to be eligible to play sports and receive an athletics scholarship.

Two years ago, the number of required core academic courses was raised to 13 and in 1996, a grade-point average and test-score sliding index went into effect. This scale allows student-athletes with higher grades to qualify with lower test scores and vice versa.
RAYMOND FARRELL

Ray Farrell is the first head basketball coach in the history of The University of Texas at Dallas. Farrell’s passion for the game of basketball and the city of Dallas are key factors in UTD choosing him to develop its basketball program. Coach Farrell has impressive coaching credentials on virtually every level of college basketball, with UTD being his first head coaching position.

Ray Farrell arrives on the UTD campus after spending the past three seasons as the Assistant Basketball Coach at The Master’s College in Santa Clarita, California. During his three seasons in Santa Clarita, The Master’s won three consecutive NAIA Regional Championships, advanced to the NAIA National Tournament three times, and compiled a record of 72-30. Prior to The Master’s, Ray was an Assistant Basketball Coach at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Under the leadership of Rollie Massimino, Coach Farrell assisted in all aspects of the UNLV program with a special emphasis on the team’s strength and conditioning.

Coach Farrell has found success at various levels of coaching college basketball. As an Assistant Coach under Mike Neer, Farrell helped the University of Rochester capture the 1990 NCAA Division III National Championship with a two-year record of 50-12. While serving as an Assistant Coach to Dave Bliss at Southern Methodist University, SMU won the 1988 SWC Championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament with a record of 28-7. Ray also assisted Head Coach Jim Sigona in making Collin County Community College a strong contender among Texas Junior Colleges.

In addition to his coaching duties, Ray Farrell has spent the past ten years as the personal trainer and coach to Rolando Blackman, the former NBA All-Star with the Dallas Mavericks and New York Knicks. Ray spends his summers teaching basketball camps and conducting clinics. He has a passion to take basketball globally, and he has conducted clinics in a variety of cities including: Orense, Spain; Port-au-Prince, Haiti; Freeport in the Bahamas; Panama City and Colon, Panama; and Brooklyn, USA.

Ray, a native of Richboro, Pennsylvania, earned a Bachelor’s of Science Degree in Health and Physical Education at West Chester University in 1983 and a Master’s of Science Degree in Physical Education at East Texas State University in 1985. Ray currently resides in Plano, Texas with his wife Ana Paula and children, Marcello, Gabriella, and Mauricio.
ASSISTANT COACH - LOU FIGUEROA
Lou Figueroa comes to UTD from William Patterson University in Wayne, New Jersey. At William Patterson, Lou’s main responsibilities were recruiting, defense, and conducting the strength and conditioning program. In 1996, Lou was selected to be an assistant coach on the Big East All-Star Team that competed in Europe. Prior to William Patterson, Coach Figueroa was the head basketball coach at Edison High School in Edison, New Jersey and an assistant basketball coach at his alma mater, Piscataway High School in Piscataway, New Jersey.

A native of Manhattan, New York, Lou earned a Bachelor’s of Arts in Psychology and Education at Rutgers University and a Master’s of Science Degree in Administration at William Patterson University. Coach Figueroa currently resides in Double Oak, Texas.

ASSISTANT COACH - LYNDAL WEAVER
Lyndal Weaver joins the UTD staff after spending the past three years as the Head Basketball Coach at Coalgate High School in Coalgate, Oklahoma. Lyndal also served as the head coach of the tennis and cross-country teams that advanced to the Oklahoma State Championships. Prior to Coalgate, Coach Weaver was coaching in the Richardson Independent School District as a head coach at Liberty and Richardson Junior High Schools, and as an assistant at Berkner High School. His Liberty team went undefeated as they captured the district title.

A native of Meade, Kansas, Weaver received his Bachelor’s of Science Degree in Marketing at Oklahoma Christian University and his teaching credentials at The University of Texas at Dallas. As a tennis player, Weaver was a state high school champion in Kansas and he earned All Sooner Athletic Conference honors at Oklahoma Christian. Lyndal currently resides in Richardson, Texas, with his wife Kristi, and his two children, Lyndsey and Chase.

ATHLETIC TRAINER - DAVE HECK
David Heck is entering his second year as the athletic trainer for UTD. He is a 1993 graduate of Texas A&M University with a Bachelor’s of Science Degree in Community Health. While at Texas A&M, David served as an athletic trainer with duties ranging from injury prevention to sports specific rehabilitation. Through HEALTHSOUTH Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation Center, David works with UTD, Richardson schools, and Dallas area select soccer clubs. David is a member of the NATA and is active in the growth and development of student trainers in North Texas.

The University of Texas at Dallas is entering its inaugural season of basketball competition as a member of the NCAA Division III and the American Southwest Conference. Ray Farrell, the first basketball coach in the history of UTD, was hired on April 6, 1998 and immediately began assembling a team for competition in the 1998-1999 season. Coach Farrell hit the recruiting trails on day one, and within two months Coach Farrell recruited 12 players from the Dallas/Ft. Worth Metroplex and Houston, Texas. This was the beginning of The University of Texas at Dallas Basketball Program.

Coach Farrell is extremely excited about the first recruiting class in the history of UTD, because it has a mixture of transfers with experience and freshmen with great promise. This year’s recruiting class includes Chad Bagnell and Ray Lee from Eastfield College, Greg Foster from Oral Roberts University, Bryon Harrison from Richland College, Brent Harrolle from Millsaps College, Matt Brunson from Regis University, and two promising freshmen from Houston, Jeremy Prasatik (HYCA) and William Hagans (St. Pius X). Although the UTD squad does not have a lot of height, many of the players have the versatility to play a variety of positions. Therefore, the Comets will look to play a tenacious full court man defense that will generate transition offense. The Comets are looking forward to the 1998-1999 season, and they promise to make it exciting for all of the UTD students, faculty, and fans.

Virago 535* & Virago 250*

- The Virago 535 and Virago 250: the two best ways to start prowling the mean streets on a real-deal V-twin without burning up your budget. Virago 250 delivers the hot-blooded power of a long-stroke, V-twin engine and big bike feel with a low, 27-inch seat height. Virago 535 moves your body and soul with an extra helping of V-twin power, running through shaft drive and seat that's just 298-inches above the pavement.

America Can Depend On Farmers

Where there’s smoke, there’s FIRE!

And at Sonny Bryan’s we’re FED UP about our newest location coming soon to Richardson. We’ve been smokin’ for 40 years and before long you’ll get to taste the most succulent ribs, mouth watering brisket, sausage chicken and more. You’ll be able to see for yourself why Sonny Bryan’s is “the legend” in Texas style barbecue.

GRAND OPENING

Quizno’s. Boy, can those Italians make a sandwich.
How good are you at basketball?

(Take this simple test.)

Look around.

Are you:  a) on the court, or
       b) in the stands reading a program?

If you picked a) congratulations, you’re a UTD player with game. If you chose b) face reality, baby.

So head to Texadelphia for some consolation (ie: cheesesteaks, chips & quacamole, etc.)
Our new store is conveniently located at the corner of Coit and Campbell (behind Starbucks).

Northern food. Southern flavor.
If you think drinking can only mess you up for a night, think again. Drinking can open the door to all kinds of violence. And if you drink and drive, you can hurt or kill someone—even yourself. Of course, you know all that. What may be news to you is that a conviction for drinking and driving or alcohol-related violence can ruin your chances of getting a job—now and long after you graduate. Isn't that a heavy price to pay for a night on the town?

NCAA

You’re not as cool as you think when you drink.
