Could the compression be still be burning oil?

ANSWER: Yes, you can burn as much oil as you can while burning and still have good compression. If the oil control is a filter or rubber, it is possible that the oil is getting into the engine cylinder and eventually be burned up in the combustion process.

The oil could also get into the combustion chamber if the seals on the valve guides were bad. Another possibility is a faulty crankcase emission-control device. That could allow oil, as well as oil vapor, to be drawn into the intake manifold and eventually be burned in the engine. And you should not rule out a simple oil leak. For instance, if it is a small leak, the engine will try to maintain the vacuum pressure by increasing speed.

Celebrating the Wineburgh’s new alliance

By TOM KOCH

ONE OF the magic areas of philately in this country will be brought to life this Thursday at the Wineburgh Philatelic Research Library on the UT-Dallas campus.

Gov. William P. Clements has proclaimed Thursday as “Confederate Stamp Day” in Texas. The Wineburgh Library will be celebrating its new relationship with the Confederate Stamp Alliance (CSA). After an 18-month search the CSA chose the Wineburgh Library as the permanent repository for the books, literature and archives of the organization. The Wineburgh Library will become the world center of literature on Confederate philately.

The festivities will begin with a private luncheon but the evening’s program is free to the public. Following a reception at 7:30 p.m. Brian Green of the Philatelic Foundation and member of the CSA Board of Trustees will speak on Confederate Philately. Dallas collector Gordon Bleuler will have an excellent display of Confederate postal history. It’s something the Confederate buff shouldn’t miss.

To commemorate the occasion the library will offer a special stamp with the CSA logo. The covers will be available at $1 each at the site or through the mail. Send orders to: Wineburgh Philatelic Research Library — Cachet, Box 641, Richardson, Texas 75080. A special U.S. Postal Service cancellation will be affixed.

The Confederate celebration doesn’t stop there. Following the Wineburgh festivities, Steve Ivy Auctions will hold The Gravelly Sale Part II — an auction of the 8,000 covers of Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the Confederacy on Friday. This will be once in a lifetime chance for many of these items. The sale will be held in two sessions — at 5 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. in the Royal Ballroom of the Regent Hotel, 1241 W. Mockingbird Lane.

BRIDGE B

By BOBBY WOLFF

Dear Mr. Wolff:
Partner opens one diamond jump to three no trump. I closeout bid? What kind of I promise?

ANSWER: The direct three no trump describes a fit (4-3-3-3) of opening no-trump. It is not a closeout does not usually include a major suit.

Dear Mr. Wolff:
Over opposing preempt and four spades, there orces between direct one over three no trump and four no. Are both bids made with play?

Difference

ANSWER: There is a deference. Three no trump or spades is to play; four no spades is a red takeout in any of the unbid

Dear Mr. Wolff:
We like to play a cut in bridge game unfettered by
